BABY LOOKING OUT FOR ME.

Two little busy hands patting on the window,
Two laughing, bright eyes looking out at me;
Two rosy-red cheeks dimpled with a dimple;
Mother-bird is coming; baby, do you see?

Down by the lilac-bush, something white and azure,
Saw I in the window as I passed the tree;
Well I knew the apron and shoulder-knots of ribbon,
All belonged to baby, looking out for me.

Talking low and tenderly
To myself as mothers will,
Spoke I softly, "God in Heaven,
Keep my darling free from ill.
Worldly gain and worldly honors
Ask I not for her from Thee;
But from want and sin and sorrow
Keep her ever pure and free."

Two little waxen hands,
Folded soft and silently,
Two little curled eyes,
Looking out no more for me.

Two little snowy cheeks,
Dimpled-dented nevermore;
Two little trodden shoes,
That will never touch the floor;
Shoulder-ribbon softly twisted,
Apron folded, clean and white;
These are left me—and these only
Of the childish presence bright.

Thus He sent an answer to my earnest praying,
Thus He keeps my darling free from earthly stain,
Thus He folds the pet lamb safe from earthly straying;
But I miss her sadly by the window pane,
Till I look above it: then with purer vision,
Sad, I weep no longer the lilac-bush to pass,
For I see her, angel, pure and white and sinless,
Walking with the harpers, by the sea of glass.

Two little snowy wings
Softly flutter to and fro,
Two tiny childish hands
Beckon still to me below;
Two tender angel eyes
Watch me ever earnestly
Through the loop-holes of the stars:
Baby's looking out for me.

"PASTORAL PATRIOTS"—Almost every community is cursed with a class of men just now, that cannot be better described than by the heading of this article. The Chicago Post describes them as follows:—

"He is the most belligerent demonstrative of beings. He is continually wanting to hurt somebody, and wanting that everybody should know and believe it. He is for fight—not that he is very apt to enlist, unless in the 'Home Guard'—but whenever there is enlisting to be done his voice is to be heard above all other voices in urging others to do so. If the emergency is great, or the danger imminent, he gets terribly excited about it. He rushes around frantically, uses terrific words and gesticulations in an alarming manner; he expresses a vehement desire to rip and slash things; he blows like a thunder-gust; he prances and kicks up like an unruly mule on a railroad; he snorts like a steam-engine; he gets red in his face like a boiled lobster; he roars, and bellows and paws the ground with much wrath; he gnashes his teeth, and shakes his fist at the enemy—six or seven hundred miles off; he expresses a willingness to cut the throats of any number of traitors, and wants to know why other folks don't do it; he is turbulent; he wants a 'muss' in which somebody or anybody (except himself) shall get a broken head; he exhorts somebody to borrow a meat-axe, and to spare none of them; he insists upon demolishing things at a single blow, like a quack medicine advertisement, and gives full particulars how to do it. Notwithstanding his terrible habits, he is not a formidable or dangerous object. He is careful to keep in the rear, where in case of retreat he will be sure to reach a place of safety in the advance."

A PAINTER was employed in painting a West India ship in the river, suspended on a stage under the ship's stern. The captain, who had just got into the boat alongside, for the purpose of going ashore, ordered the boy to let go the painter (the rope which makes fast the boat). The boy instantly went aft and let go the rope by which the painter's stage was held. The captain, surprised at the boy's delay, cried out—

"Hig-ho-ho, there you lazy lubber, why don't you let go the painter?"

"He's gone, sir, pots and all," the boy replied.

STOPPING THE APPELITE—"Hannah," said the landlady of a boarding house to her new maid, when there's any bad news, particularly private afflictions, always let the boarders know it before dinner. It may seem strange to you, Hannah, but such little things make a great difference in the eating in the course of the year."

HOW A SLAVE SOLD HIS MASTER.

Matthew Hobson (generally called Black Matt, on account of his darkness of complexion) was well known among the inhabitants of the seaboard of Virginia, some years ago, as a slave-dealer and an accomplished "breaker-in" of bad flesh. He once purchased a bright mulatto by the name of Sam, at a very low price, on account of his very bad qualities, such as thieving, lying and drunkenness. Sam was intelligent, with all his faults—could read and write, and ape the airs of a polished gentleman.—

He was so far removed, too, from the pure African, that he could scarcely be distinguished from a white man. On his becoming the property of the slave-dealer he received several severe admonitions, in order that he might have a foretaste of the temper of his master. Secretly he vowed vengeance for these striking proofs of Matt's affection, and in a short time an opportunity offered to gratify his vengeance.

Matt made up his gang, and shipped them at Norfolk. The barque arrived safely at New Orleans and was brought to the wharf. In order that Sam might bring a good price, he was togged off in fine clothes—calf-skin boots, a silk hat, and kid gloves. Matt thought by this external show to realize at least $600 for the mulatto, as the body servant of some rich planter. Sam was consequently allowed to go on shore in order to show himself off. He proceeded to the Alhambra, and there he strutted along among the best of them. Hearing a portly gentleman remark that he wished to purchase a good body servant, he went up to him, and, with an independent swagger, said:

"My dear sir, I have got just the boy that will suit you."

"Ha!" replied the planter, "I am glad to hear you say so, for I have been looking for one several days. What do you ask for him?"

"Nine hundred dollars," replied Sam, "and cheap as dirt at that. He has every quality—can shave, dress hair, brush boots, and is besides polished in his manners. I could have got fifteen hundred dollars for him but for one fault."

"Ho!" ejaculated the planter, "and pray what kind of a fault is that?"

"Why, sir, a ridiculous one. He imagines himself a white man."

"A white man!" exclaimed the planter, laughing, "that is a funny conceit, indeed; but I can soon cure him of that—I've had considerable experience in training and managing gentlemen of color."

"Oh! sir," continued Sam, "there is but little doubt that he can be cured—though you may find some trouble at first."

"Well, you appear to be a gentleman," said the planter, who was rather too anxious and confiding. "I will take him on your recommendation. Where is he now?"

"On board the barque—yonder at the wharf; you can see him at any moment," replied Sam.

"Good," exclaimed the planter, "I am much pleased with your honesty and candor, and in order to save time—here are nine hundred dollars—please give me a bill of sale."

Sam got the clerk to draw up a bill of sale signed the name of Samuel Hopkins, pocketed the money, and told the planter to ask the captain for Black Matt; he would himself be on board as he had closed a bargain with another gentleman who was desirous of purchasing one of the field hands.

The parsy planter made his way to the barque and demanded of the captain to see Black Matt. The officer pointed to Matthew Hobson, who sat on the quarter deck, smoking his cigar, and superintending the debarkation of his slaves.

"Are you Black Matt, my fine fellow?" asked the planter, addressing the slave merchant.

"Folks call me so at hum," was the reply, "but here my name is Matthew Hobson. What do you want?"

"I'll tell you, Matt, what I want. I want you. You're a likely looking fellow and will just suit me."

"Look ye here, stranger," said Matt, firing up, "maybe you don't know who you are speaking to?"

"Yes I do, though—you're my property; I bought you of your master, Samuel Hopkins, just now, and—"

"You bought me," exclaimed Matt, standing up at full length before the planter. "I am a white man."

THE WALLED LAKE.—Walled Lake is situated in part of Wright county, shape of the lake is oval, two miles in length, and in the widest part, comprising some two thousand acres. Closing this lake is over six length, and is built or composed varying in size from boulders of weight, down to small pebbles, a intermixed with earth. The top of wall is uniform in height above the water in all parts, which makes its height to vary on the land side according to the unevenness of the country, from two to twelve feet in height. In the highest part the wall measures from ten to twelve feet thick at the base, and from four to six at the top, inclining each way—outward and inward. There is no outlet, but the water frequently rises and flows over the top of the wall. The lake at the deepest part, is about ten feet deep and abounds in large and fine fish, such as pickerel, pike, bass, perch, &c. The water is as clear as crystal, and there is no bubbling or agitation to indicate any large springs or feeders. Wild fowls of all kinds are plenty upon its bosom. At the north end there are two small groves of about ten acres each, no other timber being near. It has the appearance of having been walled up by human hands, and looks like a huge fortress, yet there are no rocks for miles around. There are no visible signs of the lake being the result of volcanic action, the bed being perfectly smooth and the border of regular form. The lake is seventeen miles from Boon River on the west, eight miles from Iowa River on the east, and about one hundred miles from Cedar Rapids. It is one of the greatest wonders of the West, and has been visited by hundreds of curiosity seekers.

WHEN PARSON BROWNLOW WILL JOIN THE DEMOCRATS.—"I join the Democrats? Never, so long as there are sects in churches—woods in gardens—fleas in hog pens—dirt in victuals—disputes in families—wars with nations—water in the ocean—bad men in America, or base women in France! No, Jordan Clark, you may hope—you may congratulate—you may reason—you may sneer—but that cannot be. The thrones of the Old World—the Court of the Universe—the governments of the world may all fall and crumble into ruin—the New World may commit the national suicide of dissolving this Union, but all this must occur before I join the democracy."

"I join the Democracy?" Jordan Clark, you know not what you say. When I join democracy, the Pope of Rome will join the Methodist Church—when Jordan Clark of Arkansas is President of the Republic of Great Britain, by universal suffrage of a contented people—when Queen Victoria commences to be divorced from Prince Albert, by a county court in Kansas—when Congress obliges by law James Buchanan to marry a European Princess—when the Pope leases the Capitol at Washington for his city residence—when Alexander of Russia, and Napoleon of France are elected Senators in Congress from New Mexico—when good men cease to go to Heaven or bad men to hell—when proof is afforded, both clear and unquestionable, that there is no God—when men turn to ants, and ants to elephants, I will change my political faith, and come out on the side of democracy!"

A word of kindness is seldom spoken in vain; while witty sayings are as easily lost as the pearls slipping from a broken string.

The water that flows from a spring does not congeal in winter. And those sentiments of friendship which flow from the heart cannot be frozen in adversity.

Gene. works wanted to in the meantime, impregnable. W. whole army, in his from Long Island, by reasc. fog: And finally, Cornwallis vented from escaping from Y by an autumnal tempest, and so A. can liberty was secured.

"SEEKING THE ELEPHANT."—"That's a werry knowin' hanimal of your'n," said a Cockney gentleman to the keeper of an elephant.

"Very," was the cool rejoinder. "E performs strange tricks and antics, does 'e?" inquired the Cockney, eyeing the animal through his glasses.

"Surprising," retorted the keeper, "we've learned him to put money in that box you see up there. Try him with a crown."

The Cockney handed the elephant a crown piece; and, sure enough, he took it in his trunk and then placed it in the box, high out of reach.

"Well, that his werry extraordinary—bostonishing, truly!" said the green one, opening his eyes. "Now, let's see 'im take his hout, hand 'and 'hit back to me."

"We never learned him that trick," retorted the keeper, with a regular leer; and turned away to stir up the monkeys and punch the hyenas.

PACIFIC RAILROAD.—The Land Office at Carson received an official map of the route of the Pacific Railroad, with instructions from the General Land Office to withdraw all lands lying within twenty-five miles each side of the route, from entry. The route of the road as laid down on the map, strikes this Territory a short distance above the head of the Truckee Meadows, and follows the Truckee River down to the "Big Bend."

This action of the Department does not affect occupied lands, but prevents further location of lands where a settlement had not been made prior to the receipt of said map and instructions at this local office.—[Virginia Union]

In Venango county, Penn., is a queer fellow by the name of Tom Barton, who drinks and stutters, and stutters and drinks. He has a brother Jim, who is glib of tongue, and a great liar—hope he has reformed, for he professed to have become a good man, and was baptized in the river. It was a bitter cold day in winter, and the ice had to be cut to make a place for the ceremony. As Jim came up out of the water, Tom said to him:—

"Is it o-c-c-cold, Jim?"

"No," replied Jim; "not at all."

"D-d-dip him again, m-m-minister," cried Tom, "he l-l-lies yet!"

A lazar and corpulent sergeant complained one morning that the benches were not wide enough for two—that he was "crowded."

"Crowded!" says the captain. "Good gracious! I should think a man with such a belly as you have would be crowded if he slept alone."

The Quincy Union.

Two Irish porters meeting in Dublin, one addressed the other with,—
"Och, Thaky, my jewel, is it you?
are you just come from England? Pray
did you see any thing of our old friend, Pat Murphy?"

"The devil a sight," replied he, "and what's worse, I'm afraid I never shall."
"How so?"

"Why, he met with a very unfortunate accident lately."

"Amazing! What was it?"

"O, indeed, nothing more than this;
as he was standing on a plank, talking devoutly to a priest, at a place in London
which I think they call the Old Bailey,
the plank suddenly gave way,
and poor Murphy got his neck broke."

A LARGE ONION.—"Do you call them
large turnips?"

"Why, yes, they are considerable large."

"They may be so for turnips, but they are nothing to an onion I saw the other day."

"And how large was the onion?"

"Oh, a monster, it weighed forty pounds!"

"Forty pounds!"

"Yes, and we took off the layers, and the sixteenth layer went completely round a demijohn that held four gallons."

"What a whopper!"

"You don't mean to say that I lie?"

"O, no; what a whopper of an onion
I mean."

AN EDITOR'S ACCOMPLISHMENT.—At a late printer's festival in Boston the following capital toast was given: THE EDITOR.—The man that is expected to know everything, tell all he knows, and guess at the rest; to make known his own character, establish the reputation of his neighbor, and elect all the candidates to office, to blow up everybody and reform the world; to live for the benefit of others, and the epitaph on his tombstone: "Here he lies at last;" in short, he is a locomotive runner on the track of public notoriety; his lever is his pen; his boiler is filled with ink;
his tender is his scissors; his driving wheel is public opinion; whenever he explodes it is caused by the non-payment of subscriptions.

A QUAKER lately popped the question
to a fair Quakeress thus:—
"Hum—yea, verily, Penelope, the Spirit urgeth and moveth me wonderfully to beseech thee to cleave unto me,
flesh of my flesh, and bone of my bone."
"Hum, truly, Obadiah, that thou hast wisely said; and inasmuch as it is not good for man to be alone, I will sojourn with thee."

"Do you keep nails here?" asked a sleepy-looking lad, walking into a hardware store, the other day.

"Yes," replied the gentlemanly proprietor. "We keep all kinds of nails;
what kind will you have, and how many?"

"Well," said the boy, sliding toward the door, "I'll take a pound of finger nails and about a pound a half of toe nails."

Peace is the evening star of the soul,
as virtue is its sun; and the two are never far apart.

MAKE ROOM FOR THE FLORENCE!!

IT MAKES FOUR DISTINCT STITCHES, FEELS
THE WORK, EITHER WAY, SEWING AND HEAVY GOODS WITHOUT CHANGE OF TENSION,
WILL GATHER
AND SEW ON AT THE SAME TIME.

IT MAKES A STITCH ALIKE ON
BOTH SIDES OF THE FABRIC, HAS NO SPRINGS TO GET OUT OF ORDER, AND IS THE MOST RAPID SEWER
IN THE WORLD. EVERY MACHINE WARRANS

We, the undersigned, have each purchased a FLORENCE SEWING MACHINE and have them
now in use. We have thoroughly tested them on work of all grades—heavy, medium and light—and our opinion is that the Florence is durable, will not easily get out of order, is strong and simple in construction, and its use is easily learned by the most inexperienced.

It will do a greater range of work, with less trouble and change, and we consider it altogether better than any other Family Sewing Machine we have ever seen.

the BEST FAMILY
SEWING MACHINE
IN THE WORLD!!

Over Seven Hundred
FLORENCE MACHINES have been sold on this coast
in the short time since the Agency has been established here, and we make this strong assertion, as convincing proof of their worth, that no person can be found who has a Florence, that would exchange
it for a Family Sewing Machine of any other manufacture.

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY.

WM. T. CUTTER'S
Pure Old Bourbon Whiskey.

FOR MEDICAL AND FAMILY PURPOSES.
So Long Used
IN THE ARMY HOSPITALS AND INFIRMAries, and so favorably known throughout the Atlantic States, is now offered for sale in this market. The following testimonials from physicians of the highest distinction have been received,
which are but very few of like character which have come to us unsolicited:

New York, May 1, 1861.
Mr. Wm. T. Cutter, Jr., Louisville, Ky.—Dear
Sir: The great difficulty in procuring brandy sufficiently pure for medicinal purposes, has induced many of the physicians of this vicinity to adopt Bourbon Whiskey as a substitute, both in the hospital and private practice, and since the latter has come into such general use, we have been led to believe that a great deal of new sold is of very inferior quality.

Presuming that your residence in the vicinity of the manufacture of Whisky in Kentucky, as well as your skill as a chemist, will enable you to select a reliable article, and having full confidence in your integrity, we are led to inquire whether you will not aid us in having the market supplied, through an agency, with the best quality of

PURE OLD BOURBON WHISKEY,
For the use of the sick.

We are, very respectfully, sir, yours truly,
Valentine Mott, M. D.,
Jo. C. Hutchinson, M. D., C. T. Mitchell, M. D.,
Dewitt C. Enos, M. D.,
E. N. Chapman, M. D.,
Jas. R. Wood, M. D.,
W. E. P. Baylis.

The above article is for sale by
W. T. CUTTER,

HOWARD Private Medical INSTITUTE.

No. 537, Sacramento St., San Francisco.
Consultation, by Letter or otherwise, Free.

ESTABLISHED FOR THE CURE OF DISeases of a private nature, such as Gonorhoea, Syphilis, Stricture, Mercureal Complaints,
Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, Rheumatism, Fever and Ague, Skin Diseases, Sam-inal Emissions, and all diseases brought on by indulgence or accidents.

The Howard Institute
is under the immediate charge of Dr. P. Howard who has become justly celebrated for his successful treatment of diseases of the above nature, without the use of Mercury in any form.

NOTICE.—The Doctor having been waited on
by numerous friends and societies since his return from Mexico to resume lecturing, takes this occasion to state that though he appreciates the compliments thus tendered, it will be impossible for him to accept their invitations, as the new arrangement in the routine of the HOWARD INSTITUTE demands his constant attention, and not feeling willing to entrust the treatment of the patients to other hands than his own, takes this occasion to respectfully decline all calls to lecture out of the City of San Francisco.

In re-opening this old and popular institute once more to the people of the Pacific coast, the Doctor is governed by a desire to not only afford an asylum for the afflicted, but to suppress QUACKERY, which has of late so boldly and impudently come before the public in any form.

They claim to have certificates of remarkable cures, or some before unheard of distinctions of foreign bestowings, of European Education, and European Medicine, thus misleading the afflicted who are not aware of the utter uselessness of foreign medicines and foreign practice when applied to diseases in this variable climate.

Of such pardons the Doctor was those seeking remedial relief to beware for they seek to deceive and ruin your health.

To his old patrons and the public in general the Doctor says, they can rely upon his known skill and integrity as heretofore, with every assurance of a speedy and permanent cure in all possible cases.

The Doctor's charges are moderate and well suited to the means of the patients.

The Howard Institute is located in the center of the city, and is fitted up with every convenience for the comfort of the afflicted. The patient will leave his residence without fear of observation.

Persons living in the interior who may prefer being cured at home, by sending a careful description of their disease, together with the length of time they have been afflicted, can have their medicines carefully put up and sent to any part of the Pacific coast by Express or Mail, together with full and explicit directions, so as to enable them to bring about a speedy and permanent cure without travelling upon them the necessity of visiting the city.

All letters should be addressed
DR. P. HOWARD, Howard Institute,
No. 537, Sacramento St., San Francisco, Cal.

The Institute is two doors above the What Cheer
Hotel, and adjoining the Banking House of Dona-hoe & Co.

The Doctor himself opens and answers all letters,
and correspondents can rely upon the strictest secrecy. Consultation by letter or otherwise, FREE.

To the Ladies.
When a female is in trouble of whatever nature or afflicted with a disease, such as Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Irritability, Moroseness, Urinary Difficulties,
Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, all diseases of the Womb, Hysteria, Sterility and all other diseases peculiar to Females.—
They should go at once or write to Dr. Howard at his Medical Institute. Let no false delicacy prevent you, but apply immediately and save yourself from painful suffering and premature death.

The Doctor is so arranged that he can be consulted without fear of discovery.

DR. HOWARD'S PRIVATE PILLS.
Have come to be universally acknowledged to be the only compound to be depended upon for the removal of all cases of suppression, irregularity or long standing.

Ladies having reason to believe they are pregnant should be careful to avoid using them as they would surely cause a miscarriage. They will be forwarded to any part of the Pacific coast on the receipt of $5 per box.

Consultation by letter or otherwise free. All letters must be addressed to
DR. P. HOWARD, Howard Institute,
No. 537, Sacramento street,
San Francisco.

WHY WILL YOU BE SICK.

IT IS STRANGE THAT SO MANY PERSONS will suffer for years with diseases when they can be so readily cured.

DR. A. BALL,
Has been established in San Francisco for ten years and during that period has not failed to effect a cure in a single case that he has undertaken.

DOCTOR BALL after a study of forty years has succeeded in compounding a medicine of

PURELY VEGETABLE PREPARATION,
that will cure the worst cases of Gonorhoea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis, Impotency, Skin Diseases,
and all complaints arising from immoral practices,
in less time than by any other process known,
without injury to the system.

DR. BALL'S LADIES' RELIEF FOR THE radical cure of weakness and irregularities to which so many ladies of the Pacific Coast are subject, owing principally to the peculiarities of the climate, is the best preparation yet discovered by the medical faculty, as thousands who have used it are prepared to testify.

DR. BALL IS NO QUACK. He is a regular educated Physician of forty years standing and has a diploma, which he will be pleased to exhibit to all those who may wish to examine it.

Persons living at a distance, by sending a description of their complaint, can have this medicine put up in a package and forwarded by mail or express, in such a manner as not only to insure safety in transit, but so that no one would suspect what are the contents.

References will be sent by mail to those who wish to enquire as to the Doctor's ability before placing themselves in his charge.

93. ADDRESS A. BALL, M. D., No. 328, Montgomery street, between California and Pine, San Francisco, California.

Consultations, either personal or by mail,
FREE.
